Cook to speak to PAR conference

Political analyst Charlie Cook will be the luncheon keynote speaker for the Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana's 2010 annual conference April 30.

The conference will begin at 10 a.m. at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Baton Rouge.

Cook's speech will focus on the Obama presidency and the 2010 midterm elections. Cook is publisher of The Cook Political Report, writes weekly for the National Journal magazine and CongressDailyAM and is a political analyst for NBC News.

The morning panel discussion will feature an update of the current legislative session.

The half-day conference is open to the public, and the cost is $85 per person ($75 for PAR members). Lunch is included in the price. Reserved sponsorship tables for 10 are also available at a cost of $1,000 for gold tables and $750 for silver tables.

For more information or to register, call (225) 926-8414 or visit PAR's Web site at <http://www.la-par.org>.
