

THIS AFTERNOON'S HEADLINES / WED, MARCH 31, 2010

PAR explains sunshine laws

The Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana has released a new citizen education fact sheet on how to interpret the state's sunshine laws with the increased use of technology. The fact sheet offers an explanation of how the state's open meetings and public records laws apply to electronic information and communication such as e-mail, text messages and computerized data. To see the document, click here.